

PHOENIX FIRE STATION
50

NUCOR-YAMATO
STEEL

HOW THE PHOENIX FIRE DEPARTMENT
SAVED SOMETHING THAT WASN'T EVEN ON FIRE.

The Phoenix fire department is trained to save people and their homes, but when they wanted to save the environment, they asked for our help. As part of Nucor, the world's largest recycler, we provided their new fire station with beams manufactured from recycled steel.
Providing just the kind of support they needed to build Arizona's first ever LEED® certified fire station.
A building that helps save lives, homes, and the environment, all at the same time.
