DBIA membership must be renewed annually. Dues are tax deductible as ordinary and necessary business expenses under IRS Tax Code Section 162(3) except for that portion allocable to "lobbying" under Public Law #103-66. (DBIA estimates that 97% of your dues payment is deductible and 3% non-deductible.)

DBIA Industry Partner Membership is Defined As: An organizational membership which provides member benefits to an institution and its employees. Membership dues vary based on the type of organization and annual revenue. There are five Industry Partner (IP) categories:

AE/EA Firm: defined as a firm that is solely one of the following: Architecture/engineering (AE), Engineering/architecture (EA), Engineering only, Architecture only

At-Risk Firm: defined as the firm that is taking the financial risk and manages the contract for the project. Examples include: Construction Management Firm, Design-Build Firm (a fully integrated in-house team), General Contracting Firm

Professional Services Firm: defined as the firm that provides solely professional services for the project/client. Examples include: Consulting Firm, Law Firm, Marketing/Business Development Firm, Technology Software Firm

Public/Private Owner Firm: defined as an organization that is owned privately or publicly. They are the organizations that control the design and construction process. Examples include: Private Facility Owner, Real Estate Developer, Public Academic Institution, Government Agency (Federal, Local/City, State, Military), Non-Profit Association. This does not include firms that provide design and construction services such as contractors, A/E firms, architects etc.

Specialty Contractor or Manufacturer/Supplier Firm: defined as an organization that provides specialty services to a project. Examples include: Electrical Contractor, Manufacturer/Supplier, Mechanical Contractor, Plumbing Contractor

All IP members (companies) receive member slots based on the dues matrix. A company can have anywhere between 1-10 full member slots, as well as 2 Young Professional member slots (for those 35 or under ONLY, not including full time students). Both the full member and young professional member slots are considered members of DBIA – they receive all member benefits (listed on the DBIA website), are listed in the membership directory, and receive all correspondence from DBIA National and their Region.

All employees of Industry Partner companies receive member discounts for meetings, programs and products, however; they are not considered members of DBIA.
